ONTARIO SECURITIES COMMISSION POLICY NO. 3-30

SUSPENSION OF REGISTRATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 8: CRIMINAL CHARGES PENDING

The facts which lead to a registrant being charged with a crime, in particular fraud or theft, may give rise to the conclusion that it would be prejudicial to the public interest to permit that registration to continue until a hearing can be convened. The Commission may suspend the registration without a hearing pursuant to subsection 2 of section 8 of The Securities Act. The Commission is required to convene a hearing within fifteen days of the suspension. Alternatively, it may conclude that the facts are not so clear or the allegations not so serious so as to warrant immediate suspension, in which case a hearing may be ordered under subsection 1 of section 8. In either event the Commission's concern is whether such public proceedings might prejudice the right of the registrant to a fair trial before the criminal courts.

The Commission is of the view that it has an obligation to act for the protection of the public under section 8 without awaiting the results of the criminal proceedings notwithstanding that its proceeding might be founded on the same evidence. Excepting in extraordinary circumstances the Commission will accede to a request made under subsection 1 of section 9, The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, 1971, that the hearing be held in camera. In such cases the registrant's right to a fair trial before the criminal courts would outweigh the desirability of adhering to the principle that all hearings be open to the public. In accordance with section 14 of The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, 1971, a witness will be informed by the tribunal of his rights under The Ontario and Canada Evidence Acts. Alternatively, the Commission will consider an application by the registrant to have the hearing postponed pending outcome of the criminal proceedings.

This is an application by the Chicago Board Options Exchange Clearing Corporation (the "Clearing Corporation") made pursuant to section 20 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, as amended, for an order determining that it would not be prejudicial to the public interest for certain securities issued from time to time by the Clearing Corporation known as "Chicago Board Options" to be traded in Ontario, subject to the provisions of the Act following the filing with the Commission under the Act of a preliminary prospectus and a prospectus relating to such securities substantially in the form of a prospectus dated April 26th, 1974, accepted by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (the "S.E.C."). The application, which was filed on September 27th, 1974, was preceded by discussions with the Commission and its staff.

The security is novel. Using its experience in issuing and trading commodity futures contracts, the Chicago Board of Trade developed a standard form of option or call based on a select list of underlying listed securities ("Chicago Board Options"). So far as the public are concerned, the Clearing Corporation writes and guarantees each of these options. The now thirty-two issuers whose securities presently underlie the options are not reporting issuers in Ontario but are in full compliance with the disclosure requirements in the United States where they are listed.

There appeared to be much interest among the Ontario brokers in trading Chicago Board Options. The Commission published notice of its intention to hold public hearings, inviting representations from the public in general, the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "T.S.E.") and a cross-section of those engaged in the securities industry in Ontario. Hearings were held on November 12th and 13th and concluded on December 12th, 1974. During the course of the hearings, the following facts were adduced.

The Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated (the "Exchange") is a national securities exchange registered by the S.E.C. under the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934. It has been in business since April 26, 1973. It functions as a central primary market for the writing and the purchase and sale of the Chicago Board Options. The securities underlying the options are selected from stocks listed on other United States national securities exchanges. The Exchange performs a unique function in the option writing business in that by standardizing the terms of the contracts and interposing the Clearing Corporation as the principal in all transaction it provides a secondary market through which the holders and the writers of Chicago Board Options may liquidate their positions through offsetting closing transactions. The price of the option is established in an auction market.

The Chicago Board options are issued in series of options to purchase a standard number of shares of the presently thirty-two underlying securities by specific dates, with the variable being price. They are issued by the applicant, the Clearing Corporation, which at the time of the application was a wholly owned subsidiary of the Exchange. The Chicago Board Options themselves are registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933 through the April 26th, 1974, prospectus. More recently a preliminary prospectus dated December 6th, 1974, has been filed with the S.E.C. reflecting a proposal through which a fifty percent interest in the Clearing Corporation will be acquired by the American Stock Exchange, Incorporated, another national securities exchange registered by the S.E.C., with the Clearing Corporation being renamed The Options Clearing Corporation and the Chicago Board Options restyled the Exchange Traded Options. Our order issued on December 19th, 1974, reflects these changes.

There unquestionably has been considerable interest in the functioning of the Exchange and the trading of the Chicago Board Options in the Exchange's short life span. More particularly through the support given to the application by the T.S.E. and certain of its members clearly there is considerable interest in the Ontario brokerage community in being able to trade such options in Ontario. The safeguards offered through the T.S.E. were the cornerstone to the order granted.

The application was necessary under section 20 of The Securities Act because the Clearing Corporation found itself unable to comply with the prospectus requirements of section 35. The prospectus filed with the S.E.C. describes fully the nature of the issuer, the Clearing Corporation, but it does not give any information about the thirty-two issuers whose securities presently underlie Chicago Board Options. Full compliance with the Ontario Act would mean that a prospectus standard of disclosure would be required for each of those thirty-two issuers, none of whom are presently reporting issuers in Ontario. The order requested in effect aimed at a type of recognition for both the Clearing Corporation and the Exchange, when the Commission has no jurisdiction over either body, based upon the standards imposed by the S.E.C. and the information reasonably and publicly available in the United States concerning the underlying issuers under the laws of that country. The Commission were satisfied, subject to the safeguards outlined below, that it would not be prejudicial to the public interest to permit the Chicago Board Options to be sold to residents of Ontario through a prospectus containing only the information required by the S.E.C. While not a part of the application, Canadian holders of the thirty-two underlying securities can also limit their exposure by offering to option their securities through the Exchange.

If, as it is contended, the Chicago Board Options have the utility ascribed to them in the prospectus, the Commission was concerned that its order would not deter the development of a similar market for eligible Canadian securities in Ontario. We were aware that the T.S.E. had a committee charged with considering the matter. However, even drawing on the experience of the most innovative firms, there was insufficient information to determine whether the cost of establishing an additional Clearing Corporation type mechanism in Ontario would be justified. The T.S.E. and the member firms who testified told us they were anxious to trade the Chicago Board Options both to gain experience and to introduce the Canadian investing public to this form of security. There was no opposition to the application.

Apart from being assured that trading in Chicago Board Options in Ontario would not block the development of trading in similar options based upon Canadian securities, the Commission was concerned to see that there would be sufficient investor protection given having regard to the highly sophisticated nature of the Chicago Board Options. So far as the American investor is concerned, we were fully informed by the Exchange and Clearing Corporation officers concerning the standards imposed on their members and the methods of surveillance. This was directed to the ability of the Clearing Corporation to meet its obligations, the practices and procedures permitted by the Exchange, the standards of training of those dealing with the public including "suitability" or "know your client" rules. While these standards satisfied the S.E.C. the fact remains neither the Exchange nor Clearing Corporation are within the Commission's physical jurisdiction.

The T.S.E. assured us that if the Chicago Board Options could be traded in Ontario it would work closely with the Exchange and the Clearing Corporation to develop adequate standards. The Commission was satisfied in general terms on this point but made it clear that since it was looking to the T.S.E. to develop and enforce standards it would restrict trading in Chicago Board Options to the broker-members of the T.S.E. and then only to such members who have a partner, officer or director who is designated as, approved by and registered with the Exchange as an Options Principal under the rules of the Exchange. At the conclusion of the evidence the Commission instructed its counsel, counsel for the applicant, and counsel for the T.S.E. to meet and develop a set of rules that could be recommended to the Commission as protecting the public with respect to trading in Chicago Board Options in Ontario.

The hearing reconvened on December 12th, 1974, at which time the T.S.E. made a written proposal to the Commission as to changes it was prepared to implement in its by-laws, rules and policies in the public interest if its members were permitted to trade Chicago Board Options to the Ontario public. This proposal dealt with such matters as additional educational requirements for registrants permitted to trade, the opening of customers' accounts, margin requirements, the supervision and surveillance of trading in customers' accounts, suitability procedures, regular reporting of Chicago Board Options transactions to the T.S.E., position and exercise limits designed to prevent undue concentration and market manipulation and other related matters. These terms and conditions as amended and expanded by the Commission, appear on the formal order of the Commission issued on December 19th, 1974. Chicago Board Options may only be traded in Ontario through the modified form of prospectus permitted in the Order if, as and when the conditions of the Order are complied with and only so long as they continue to be complied with. The Commission is satisfied that under the terms of the Order, apart from the investment risks inherent in this type of security, the steps taken should provide reasonable protection for the Ontario investors who purchase through members of the T.S.E.

In conclusion, we are permitting a variation in information which would otherwise be required to permit the distribution of Chicago Board Options to the public of Ontario for the following reasons:

- (1) The Chicago Board Options and the new Exchange Traded Options are the subject of prospectuses filed with the S.E.C. under United States Securities Act of 1933.
- (2) The exchanges on which the options will be traded are United States national securities exchanges and registered as such with the S.E.C. under The Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
- (3) The securities of the issuers underlying the Chicago Board Options are and will continue to be listed on United States national securities exchanges and the issuers of such securities are reporting issuers subject to the continuous and timely disclosure requirements of the S.E.C. and the legislation it administers.

- (4) The T.S.E. has undertaken, subject to the approval of the Commission, to amend its by-laws, regulations and policies to assure protection for the public as well as for its own members trading the Chicago Board Options which includes adequate surveillance of those of its members who qualify and do trade.
- (5) The Exchange and the Clearing Corporation will facilitate the program of education, standards of suitability and surveillance, undertaken by the T.S.E. including the recognition of T.S.E. members meeting the new standards to be developed by the T.S.E. as non-member brokers under the rules of the Exchange.
- (6) The Clearing Corporation will file a preliminary prospectus and prospectus in Ontario containing substantially the same information as is contained in the prospectus filed with the S.E.C., reflecting the Canadian tax position and certified in accordance with and otherwise subject to the requirements imposed by the Ontario Securities Act.
- (7) Trading in Chicago Board Options will be restricted in Ontario to members of the T.S.E.
- (8) The experience gained through trading in Chicago Board Options will enable the T.S.E. and the committee now established to gain experience and determine whether the establishment of an option market based upon suitable underlying Canadian securities is feasible.
- (9) The Clearing Corporation has undertaken that, without the consent of the Commission, it will not create new classes of options based upon issuers incorporated, organized or continued under the laws of Canada or one of its provinces or territories thereby not precluding the establishment of such a market in Canada based upon underlying Canadian securities.

The Commission were advised of and considered the latest developments in the United States, the approval by the S.E.C. of the plan under which the American Stock Exchange has become a fifty percent owner of the Clearing Corporation with a view to trading in options on that exchange. This order is confined to trading in securities issued by the Clearing Corporation through the prospectus and the facilities of the Chicago Board Options Exchange.

This is a hearing under the provisions of Section 8(1) of The Securities Act to determine whether or not the registration of Rosmar Corporation Limited as a Broker-Dealer should be suspended or cancelled in the public interest.

At the time of the occurrence to which we will refer the shareholders of Rosmar Corporation

Limited were Albert Allison owning 301 shares, Alexander Gordon Fisher holding 302 shares, and Martin Irving Allison, the son of Albert Allison, owning one share. At the time of the hearing, Fisher had retired from the company and his shares had been acquired by Martin Irving Allison.

In August, 1973, Rosmar agreed with R.A. Wolk & Company, Inc., a United States dealer situate in New York City, to act as an undisclosed underwriter of the securities of Technical Resources Inc., an American corporation. The proposed underwriting was for 450,000 common shares and it was originally contemplated that R.A. Wolk & Company, Inc. would sell one half of these shares and Rosmar Corporation, who is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D.C., would sell the other half.

Some time prior to the preparation of the prospectus, Dr. Clyde Berg, the senior officer of Technical Resources, came to Toronto and met with the officers of Rosmar and discussed with them the proposed underwriting. This was the only contact that the officers of Rosmar had with the officers of Technical Resources and was the sole source of information regarding the property other than the prospectus. At no time did any of them inspect the properties proposed to be developed by the issuer company.

In August and the early part of September, 1973, the salesmen acting on the instructions of Mr. Allison, Senior, communicated by telephone with some of their American customers interested in speculative securities, urging them to acquire shares in Technical Resources, Inc., at $1.00 a share. At the time, they advised their customers that they anticipated the stock would rise to $1.25 in a few short weeks once the primary issue was sold.

On September 20, 1973, Rosmar, by its President, Allison, Senior, at the request of R.A. Wolk & Company, Inc., forwarded by letter to the Irving Trust Company of New York, its cheque for $100,000 (U.S. funds) to be credited to its account regarding the underwriting of Technical Resources, Inc. (Exhibit 'G').

On September 25th, Messrs. Allison, Senior, and Fisher went to New York City to be present at the proposed closing of the underwriting at the offices of Irving Trust Company. On that occasion they deposited, including the $100,000 already forwarded, the sum of $350,000 representing the proceeds of the shares sold by Rosmar.

The closing did not take place that day because Wolk was unable to provide the remaining $100,000 covering the balance of the shares of the underwriting. The arrangement was that Messrs. Allison and Fisher would return to Toronto having left their monies in escrow and that the next day, R.A. Wolk & Company, Inc. would produce the remaining $100,000 and the underwriting would be closed. For some reason, which the Commission finds difficult to understand, Messrs. Allison and Fisher were completely naive and did return to Toronto without the matter being settled.

The next day, through a kiting of cheques, Wolk pretended that one Charles E. Hayward had purchased the remaining 100,000 shares and had paid for them with the sum of $100,000. This was merely a subterfuge.

At the same time, R.A. Wolk & Company, Inc. sent Rosmar Corporation Limited a cheque for $42,200 covering their commission on their sales of the primary distribution and one, Morton Schimmel, an Attorney in New York City, purporting to act for both R.A. Wolk & Company, Inc., and Rosmar Corporation Limited, wrote a letter stating that the underwriting had been completed to the satisfaction of everyone. It seems incredible that a person having the years of experience in the securities business that Mr. Allison, Senior, had, would have accepted this material without question, but he swears that he did and we have no evidence to the contrary.

Following this day, the salesmen of Rosmar, namely, Louis Bortnick, Gordon Shear, Norman Kates, Harry Eckler and Saul Nisker, again communicated with their clients by telephone and arranged to purchase back the stock which had previously been sold for the sum of $1.25 a share or a profit of 25%. All of the shares that had been sold through the salesmen of Rosmar were repurchased. The price of $1.25 was given to the salesmen by Allison, Senior. No share certificates of Technical Resources, Inc. were ever registered in the names of the American customers. Following the buy-back of the shares, Rosmar, without filing any prospectus in Ontario, began to sell the shares at the price of $1.50 ask - $1.25 bid to their Canadian customers without first filing a prospectus in Ontario or anywhere in Canada. Their explanation was that primary distribution had been completed in the United States and it was unnecessary to file a prospectus in any province in Canada for the purpose of a secondary offering. Strangely enough, none of the salesmen of Rosmar who had been involved in selling in the United States and buying back, sold any of the shares in Canada. There was no evidence as to who did sell the shares on behalf of Rosmar in this country.

On these facts, the complaints of the staff of the Commission were filed against Rosmar, its three shareholders, and the five aforesaid salesmen. The complaints were that Rosmar, during September, 1973, and October, 1973, engaged in warehousing and other manipulative practices in the United States in the shares of Technical Resources, Inc., that the said salesmen orally represented that Rosmar would repurchase the securities at a price higher than paid by them, and that such representations were made with the knowledge or consent, or in the alternative, on the instructions of Allison, Senior, or Fisher. It was further claimed that Rosmar failed to supervise the activities of its said salesmen. Allison, Senior, and all of the said salesmen, on behalf of Rosmar and themselves, gave evidence.

As we have stated, we found it difficult to believe that Allison, Senior, could possibly be as naive as he claimed to be, but as we had no evidence to the contrary on which we could rely, we regretfully accepted his story as to how he got into the underwriting with R.A. Wolk and how he came to return home from New York City without the closing having been completed. The whole transaction with Wolk and the New York Attorney, Schimmel, left a great deal to be desired. However, we did conclude that notwithstanding the paucity of evidence as to what transpired between the various salesmen and the United States customers, and notwithstanding the carefully rehearsed evidence of the said salesmen and the letters which they produced from some of the American customers and which they had solicited for the purposes of the hearing, these salesmen had acted improperly in that they had followed the instructions of Allison, Senior, and had told their American customers that if they purchased shares of Technical Resources, Inc., they would be repurchased in a few weeks at a higher price, which statement of intent was in fact performed.

We also have concluded on the evidence that there is no doubt but that Allison, Senior, on behalf of Rosmar, had instructed the salesmen to make the representations they made and to buy back the shares at a profit. If we had any doubts about the matter, these doubts were resolved when we saw and heard the various salesmen and had the opportunity to observe their demeanour on the stand.

We first contemplated suspending all of the salesmen for a period of days but because of the fact that they were salesmen under the control of Allison, Senior, and all of them were merely carrying out his instructions, we think that as far as they are concerned a reprimand and a black mark on their record will be adequate punishment for an offence which we do not think they will repeat.

On the other hand, a reprimand would not be sufficient for Rosmar Corporation Limited or Albert Allison personally. We accordingly direct that for the business days January 6, 1975, to January 11, 1975, inclusive, their registrations are suspended.

D.C. Ross	Ontario Securi- ties Commission
-----------	------------------------------------

This is a hearing under Section 8, sub-section 1 of The Securities Act. There are seven complaints or particulars of complaints in the first notice of hearing dated October 11, 1974. So far, we have only dealt with six of these complaints, reserving for further hearing the complaint number six, relating to the allegation concerning Herbert & Co. Securities Limited and Tipuani Gold Mines Limited and the complaints in the other notices dated November 4, 1974 and November 7, 1974.

The Commission has decided, on the evidence presented to us, and having regard to the nature of the allegations made in the Notice of Hearing, that it is not satisfied on the allegations one to five inclusive, and number seven, that the registration of Herbert & Co. Securities Limited should be cancelled or suspended.

In finding this, the Commission is not saying that it is approving of the manner in which Herbert & Co. Securities Limited have been carrying on its operations, particularly in the underwriting field, since its commencement in the year 1971.

Exhibit A filed at the commencement of this hearing has a breakdown of ten of the companies listed in Complaint No. 1, and reveals in connection therewith many interesting things, and a course of conduct. Since 1971 Herbert & Co. has underwritten securities for these ten companies, and in every instance the promoter has been Tully Investments Limited.

Tully Investments Limited is a company incorporated in the early 1960's, and during the years in question it had two shareholders, a Marion West, the wife of Phil West who owned 51 per cent of the shares, and Herbert West, the principal shareholder of Herbert & Co. Securities Limited owned the other 49 per cent.

Since 1972 Herbert & Co. has occupied premises on the third floor of 170 University Avenue in the City of Toronto. It has sublet adjacent premises to Tully Investments Limited, and also sublet premises across the hall to Harry Cravit, Q.C. If one refers to page 49 and following of Exhibit A, one is struck by the fact that all ten companies agreed to pay monthly administration fees to Tully Investments Limited.

The evidence is that not all of the amount agreed to be paid was in fact received. Nevertheless, the obligation was there.

The material also discloses that in every instance Tully, as the promoter, was to receive a large block of escrow shares. The staff of the Commission in its Complaint No. 1. and in its evidence, sought to make much of the fact that in each underwriting Herbert & Co. and Tully in the aggregate received substantially more than the company concerned.

The Commission does not consider that this fact in itself is necessarily wrong. On the other hand, when one studies the whole breakdown on page 49 the similarity of the officers of the ten companies and the boards of directors, the fact that Tully was the promoter in every instance, the fact of Tully's share ownership, and the geographical location of its office in relation to the office of Herbert & Co., leads one to conclude that there was a common practice followed throughout the four years; namely, Tully would promote, Herbert & Co. would underwrite, the board of directors would be from the panel of people closely associated with them, some monies received by the company would be paid back to Tully in administration expenses, and apart from that Tully would make a profit.

In two of the four years Herbert & Co. also made a profit. If the charge had been in Complaint No. 1 that a course of conduct had been disclosed over the period of years in the examination of these ten companies revealing that the whole operation was for the benefit of Herbert & Co. and Tully, and not for the benefit of the public, we would have had to look at the matter quite differently. However, that is not the allegation, and we do not propose to speculate about the possibilities that would have occurred if it had been.

Any person coming before this Commission is entitled to know the case they have to meet, and not be required to meet another.

Therefore, although we frankly disapprove of the setting up of corporate entities in the proximity and close association of similar boards, and we want the principals of Herbert & Co. and Tully to appreciate that we disapprove, we are not saying anything more regarding Complaint No. 1.

Now may we turn to Complaint No. 2, which was that Herbert & Co. had taken Viewpoint shares recently out of escrow, and belonging to Tully Investments, and traded in them without filing a prospectus.

Mr. Herbert West admitted that 10,000 shares of the block of 161,000-odd which had come out of escrow had been traded, but he said that he had no knowledge of this fact and that it was an error of the then office manager.

Mr. West went on to say that when he discovered the error he covered by purchasing 10,000 shares, reprimanding the office manager, and subsequently dismissed him. We are giving Mr. West the benefit of the doubt, because 10,000 shares in the whole scheme of things was not too great an amount, and he did act to replace them.

Nevertheless, in a small operation such as Herbert & Co., we find it difficult to be convinced that Mr. West did not know of the actions of his employees at an earlier time.

As to Complaints 3, 4 and 5 which relate to sales to individuals who subsequently complained to the Commission and to the Broker-Dealers' Association, namely, Ernest J. Resek, Mr. Ranco Popadic and Mrs. Gene Bernard, we do not intend to make any comments regarding the transaction with Mr. Popadic as that matter is before the courts.

As to the transaction with Mr. Resek and Mrs. Bernard, restoration satisfactory to each of them was made, and we do not think, under the circumstances, that any further penalty should be imposed because of those two transactions.

The final complaint with which we are dealing to-day is the Complaint No. 7 that Herbert & Co. violated a condition of its registration by permitting Philip West to be associated with it, either directly or indirectly. Both Herbert West and Philip West gave evidence on this point.

Both said that Mr. Philip West had nothing whatever to do with any decisions made on behalf of Herbert & Co., although both of them admitted that Mr. Philip West when he is in Toronto and not on the golf course, would spend on the average a couple of days a week in the office of Tully, which is immediately adjacent to the office of Herbert West & Co.

Mr. Herbert West and his counsel both sought to impress on us the scrupulous attention that Mr. Herbert West paid to the legal requirements of The Securities Act, the staff of the Commission, and the requirements or restrictions imposed on his registration. In our opinion it is not good enough merely to try by means of corporate distinction and geographical walls to urge compliance with the letter of the restrictions, and not the spirit of them.

If Mr. West, so far as the complaints we are dealing with to-day, wishes to continue in operation, and if he wishes in future to file prospectuses, he should appreciate that the Commission through this decision is telling him and telling the staff of the Commission that it does not approve of Mr. Philip West having anything whatsoever to do with the business operations of Herbert & Co., or Tully, nor does it approve of him having office space in close proximity to either company.

We will expect a letter of advices to the Deputy Director of Filing within the next ten days indicating that the situation has been discontinued.

The Commission wants also to point out to Mr. West and the Commission staff, that although it is impressed by the argument of your counsel that you have carried on business with these ten companies and through these ten companies over the last four years in very much the same fashion throughout, and no member of the staff has objected to the relationship between Tully and Herbert or their set up of the underwritings or the boards of directors, and therefore having regard to the time you should not be faulted for what has happened regarding these companies as disclosed in these complaints with which we are dealing now.

In part we are accepting that, and that is one of the reasons we are doing no more than reprimanding you to-day. However, we want you to understand, and we want the whole Broker-Dealer Association to understand, that we expect you to operate in the future so that the public has a fair shake for its money. We will frown on prospectuses filed in the future which show a pattern of operation which can't help but be successful for the underwriter, but which may very well have little or no chance of being successful for the investor.

For example, may we illustrate that, although there is nothing in the complaint, it comes out in the evidence that we have two companies operating in Bolivia which are on adjacent properties or claims. The same thing appears in Western Ontario where some of the companies which you have underwritten are operating in the gas and oil business. When you have a plurality of companies you also have a plurality of administration costs, of underwriting expenses, of other expenses, and the companies receive in the aggregate, individually, far less to try and develop potential properties than they would have received if instead of having two companies you had had one larger company and one underwriting.

That is the sort of thing that in the future we are going to frown upon. We are anxious to continue the broker-dealer; we think he serves a useful function, but we want him to realize that in the future he is going to be permitted to continue so long as he is doing his utmost to run an operation that gives the public an even break. The dictum of the late W. C. Fields, "Never give a sucker an even break", will not apply here.

SECTION 15 (1) (c) THE SECURITIES ACT

Registrants are reminded of the provisions of Section 15 (1) (c) of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970 as amended -

'Every registered dealer shall, within five days of the event, notify the Director in writing of ...

(c) The commencement and termination of employment of every salesman and, in the case of termination of employment, the reason therefor;

It has recently come to the attention of the Commission that some registrants are far from candid when reporting the reason for dismissal or resignation of their salesmen. Registrants are warned that by not factually and fully reporting the reason why a salesman is dismissed for cause they are not serving the public interest, and are leaving themselves open to prosecution for violation of Section 15 (1) (c) of the Act.

UNIFORM ACT POLICY 2-12

TIMELY DISCLOSURE

While, for the most part, reporting issuers are making a conscientious effort to comply with the Commission's timely disclosure policy, in certain instances we have received little or no advance warning of proposed material changes. In other instances there has been a complete failure to advise us. Consequently, since prompt action is essential, decisions to issue or not to issue cease trading orders for the purpose of permitting adequate dissemination of the new material facts among all investors must be made in haste. In addition, when the proposed changes are in the negotiation stage, advance information enables the Commission, as well as The Toronto Stock Exchange, to monitor the market for unusual activity which might indicate that the trading is based on rumour, inadequate or false information, or that insiders or tippers are trading on the basis of material information not then generally released.

Issuers are reminded that Uniform Policy 2-12 concludes,

'The following material changes must be discussed with the Commission prior to disclosure to the investing public:

1. Actual or proposed changes in the control of the company;
2. Actual or proposed acquisition or disposition of material assets;
3. Proposed takeovers, mergers, consolidations, amalgamations or re-organizations; or

4. Proposed changes in capital structure, including conversions, stock splits or stock dividends'.

This disclosure should be made on a confidential basis to the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman or the Director.

ONTARIO SECURITIES COMMISSION POLICY NO. 3-31

CEASE TRADING ORDERS: APPLICATIONS FOR PARTIAL REVOCATION TO PERMIT THE SHAREHOLDER TO ESTABLISH A TAX LOSS FOR INCOME TAX PURPOSES

Where the Commission is satisfied that a proposed disposition is at arms length and made, so far as the applicant shareholder is concerned, solely for the purpose of establishing a tax loss, the Commission is prepared to vary outstanding cease trading orders to permit such transactions where a sale to an informed purchaser is contemplated. Where the disposition is by way of gift, the Commission is of the view that it is not a 'trade' within the meaning of section 1(1) 24 of The Securities Act even though it may be viewed as a 'disposition' for the purposes of The Income Tax Act.

AND

IN THE MATTER OF GEMEX MINERALS INC.

Hearings: January 22, 27, 30, 31, 1975

Commission: A. S. Pattillo, Q.C., Chairman
G. E. Grundy, F.C.A. Commissioner

Counsel: J.J. Carthy, Q.C., Gemex Minerals Inc.

J.R. Dunn Ontario
Securities
Commission

This was a hearing under the provisions of Section 144 of The Securities Act to determine whether or not the temporary order issued the 7th day of January, 1975 and directing that all trading in the securities of the company cease should be continued. The staff of the Commission wished to make further investigations to determine whether the order to cease trading should be continued indefinitely or whether or not any terms and conditions should be attached to further trading. The company has urged us to cancel the temporary order and permit over-the-counter trading in its shares.

After hearing the evidence adduced by the staff and the evidence offered by the company, we have concluded that the order to cease trading should be continued until the company has filed an up-to-date prospectus under the provisions of Section 35 of the Act and a receipt therefor has been issued by the Deputy Director of Filings. Once the receipt has been issued, it will then be in order for over-the-counter trading to resume.

DATED at Toronto this 6th day of February, A.D. 1975.

IN THE MATTER OF SECTION 28 OF THE SECURITIES ACT, R.S.O. 1970, CHAPTER 426,

AND

IN THE MATTER OF GALAXY GOLD MINES LIMITED

Hearing: February 6, 1975

Commission: A.S. Pattillo, Q.C., Chairman
H.S. Bray, Q.C., Vice-Chairman

Counsel: J.W. Gemmell, Q.C. Counsel to Galaxy
Gold Mines Limited

L. Gord Staff Counsel

This is an appeal from the order of the Deputy Director, Filings made on December 30, 1974. The Deputy Director, following a hearing held on December 30, 1974, refused to accept for filing a prospectus dated December 10, 1974 on the ground that insufficient work had been done on the six unpatented mining claims of the company to determine that these claims merited the solicitation of public subscriptions to carry out the exploration program recommended in the prospectus.

The facts are that six claims in the vicinity of Wawa, Ontario were restaked in March, 1974, for a Toronto solicitor, Mr. Gemmell, and his associate, one Reno Rinaldi, at a staking cost of $600. In July, 1974, Galaxy Gold Mines Limited was incorporated under the laws of Ontario. In August, an engineering consultant, Robert L.V. Ekstrom, went to the property and for three days, in his words, he did substantial "bird dogging in the bush". At this time, Mr. Ekstrom had in his possession a report of August 15, 1949 prepared by Franc Joubin based upon an inspection made by A.W. Stollery and a 1951 addendum to that report. The reports described gold mineralization found in two zones. The first zone had been traced for 1,000 feet and seventeen trenches made. Samples returned some interesting gold values. On the second zone, said to be 400 feet long, there were five trenches with some gold values. This work had been completed prior to Mr. Stollery's examination. Mr. Ekstrom told us that on his visit to the property, he had not been able to locate the trenches.

The prospectus discloses that though Messrs. Gemmell and Rinaldi had invested only $600, their claims were to be sold to the company for 750,000 shares of which 75,000 were to be free and 675,000 held in escrow. The underwriting arrangement made with Rosmar Corporation, a broker-dealer, provided that Messrs. Rinaldi and Gemmell were each to have 37,500 free shares and 168,750 escrow shares - the balance of the escrow shares going to Martin I. Allison, a Director of Rosmar.

The prospectus further discloses that Rosmar had agreed to underwrite 200,000 shares at 15¢ per share. The underwriter was also granted two options on additional shares. The first on 100,000 at 20¢ per share and the second, a further 100,000 shares at 25¢ per share. These options were exercisable within three and six months respectively. The company was therefore assured of receiving $30,000 out of which would be first paid the incorporation and organization expenses estimated at $7,500. The remaining $22,500 would be available to carry out the exploration program recommended by Mr. Ekstrom which he estimated would cost a maximum of $14,950.

The prospectus also qualifies for sale a secondary offering of the 75,000 free vendor shares held by Messrs. Gemmell and Rinaldi after the shares covered by the underwriting and options have been taken down from the company's treasury. The prospectus discloses that Messrs. Gemmell and Rinaldi had agreed orally to sell these 75,000 shares to Rosmar at 15¢ per share. If one assumes that Rosmar could successfully merchandise the 400,000 underwritten and optioned shares, then the underwriter could move on to selling the free vendor shares without any price ceiling restrictions. If this happened, Messrs. Gemmell and Rinaldi would receive $11,250 in return for their $600 investment and each of them would have a carried forward interest of 168,750 escrowed shares.

Under the present policy of the Commission, if the prospectus is accepted, the underwriter would be entitled to sell its underwritten and optioned shares at a price up to 100% mark-up. If the maximum price was realized, the public would pay $150,000 for the first 400,000 shares and this would net the company $75,000. Subsequently, when the 75,000 free shares were offered, the public would pay whatever would then be the market price with no benefit to the company. If the 475,000 shares are ultimately marketed, at that stage there would be 1,150,000 shares issued and outstanding and control would be in the hands of Messrs. Allison, Gemmell and Rinaldi. A recitation of these facts makes it clear that the public is being asked to assume all of the risk at the outset and the vendor promoters are being assured an immediate profit and ultimately a very substantial profit should the property prove to be of merit.

Ontario Securities Commission Policy 3-03 under the heading "Vendor Consideration" notes that "the maximum number of shares to be permitted to the outright purchase of mining properties or claims shall not exceed 750,000 shares". The preamble to this policy commences by stating, "The policy set out below are guidelines only and the Director and the Commission will exercise their discretion to meet special or unusual circumstances".

Section 61(1)(b) of the Act requires the Director to refuse to accept the prospectus for filing where it appears to him that an unconscionable consideration had been paid or given or is intended to be paid or given for promotional purposes or for the acquisition of property. The Director in the present case did not rely upon this requirement, as we think he might, in refusing to accept the prospectus for filing. Instead he exercised his residual discretion finding that it was not demonstrated that sufficient work had been done on the six unpatented mining claims of the company in West Township to establish that these claims did merit the solicitation of public subscription to carry out the exploration program recommended in the prospectus. In short, he found that it was against the public interest to permit an offering to the public.

Mr. Gemmell, in his points for argument, submits that the evidence demonstrates that sufficient has been done on the property to warrant solicitation of public funds to finance the recommended program. Apart from the specific language of section 61(1)(b) we are unable to concur with this submission. Nothing has happened since 1949 to enhance the merit of this property. It is true, however, that the changes in the world price of gold might attract interest to a reasonable prospecting bet during these changing economics.

Mr. Gemmell complains that Mr. Brown was applying a new and unwritten policy and it would be unfair to apply this policy to this company. The Commission has not developed any new published policies but we are pleased to see that Mr. Brown has taken note, as perhaps Mr. Gemmell has not, of the concerns expressed by the Commission particularly during the course of the recent hearing into the activities of Herbert Securities Limited. We are reappraising a system which has allowed claims acquired for $600 to be vended to a company for securities which are unreasonably valued on the balance sheet at $75,000. Mr. Ekstrom, while obviously reluctant to give a straightforward answer to a straightforward question, did agree that at the present stage of development and on the information known to him, he would not recommend the purchase of this property to a client.

Mr. Gemmell has complained of the lack of guidelines. The Commission is in the process of re-considering its past thinking. We are of the view that the public is entitled to know that they are not being asked to assume the whole of the risk, but that the bona fide prospectors and mining developers, in this province including those who are ought to be providing financing for them, are willing to assume a reasonable portion of the risk with the public. We are also anxious that the monies raised from the public should in larger proportion serve the objective sought for it by the purchaser of the company's shares, namely, the exploration and development of its property. In the development of this policy and philosophy, we seek the continuing help of the responsible segment of the mining industry.

In conclusion, in the present case, we are of the view that the vendor consideration of 750,000 shares is unconscionable and a receipt for the prospectus ought not to be issued.

DATED at Toronto this 11th day of February, A.D. 1975.

Prosecution

REGINA V. HAROLD W. LUBBOCK

In the matter of two charges brought against Mr. Harold W. Lubbock under The Securities Act of Ontario, R.S.O. 1970, Chapter 426, in that Mr. Lubbock purportedly did trade in securities without registration contrary to section 6 and section 137(1)(c) and further that such trade was in the course of distribution to the public of such securities no prospectus having been filed contrary to section 35(1) and section 137(1)(c) of the said Act.

Charge was heard before His Honour Judge J. A. Newall, 18th December, 1974. Mr. A. M. Coomaraswamy for the prosecution and Mr. James Sloan of the firm of Brock & Coleman for Mr. Lubbock. After hearing the evidence, Judge Newall adjourned the case until 24th January, 1975, and requested both the Crown and the Defence to forward him written submissions on the matter. On 24th January, 1975, Judge Newall rendered a verdict of guilty on both counts. He fined Mr. Lubbock $100.00 on each charge or in default to serve seven days.

Decisions, Orders and Rulings

IN THE MATTER OF XANTREX MANAGEMENT CORPORATION

AND

IN THE MATTER OF SECTION 144 OF THE SECURITIES
ACT, R.S.O. 1970, CHAPTER 426, AND AMENDMENTS THERETO

Hearings: January 3rd and 24th, 1975.

Present:	H.S. Bray, Esq., Q.C.,	Vice Chairman
	G.R. Guillet, Esq.,	Commissioner
	A.H. Ainsworth, Esq.,	Counsel to Xantrex Management Corporation
	L. Gord, Esq.,	Staff Counsel

On December 24th, 1974, pursuant to the provisions of subsection 2 of section 144 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, as amended, (the "Act") the Commission issued a temporary order requiring that all trading in the securities of Xantrex Management Corporation ("Xantrex") should cease forthwith. The security to which this order was specifically directed was a contract, styled a "purchase order", (the "contract") then being distributed by Xantrex to the public. Neither the company nor the individuals trading in these securities hold registration under the Act. The securities being distributed by Xantrex are not the subject of a prospectus filed under the Act. This hearing was first convened on January 3rd, 1975, in accordance with subsection 2 of section 144 of the Act. It stood adjourned at the request of Xantrex until January 24th, 1975, in order that their Vancouver counsel, Mr. A.H. Ainsworth, might appear. After hearing the evidence of Brian D.F. Gibbs of Vancouver, the president and a director and shareholder of Xantrex, after reading the material filed and hearing what was said by counsel, we concluded that the contract was a security within the meaning of section 1(1)22 of the Act, that it was being distributed to the public by Xantrex without complying with either the registration or prospectus requirements of sections 6 and 35 of the Act, and therefore the cease trading order should be made permanent. It may be rescinded if, as and when the provisions of section 6 and section 35 are complied with. These reasons have been prepared at the request of Xantrex.

The offering company is said to be Xantrex Management Corporation, an Ontario company incorporated on October 16th, 1974. The same principals are involved in a similar scheme in British Columbia through a company having a similar or identical name. Mr. Gibbs is the president, a director and shareholder of both companies.

Xantrex solicited investments from the Ontario public through advertisements similar to those found in Exhibit A-3. Samples of the sales and promotion letters and material are found as Exhibits A-5 to A-11 inclusive. A sales brochure, Exhibit A-10, reviews the merits of purchasing gold and silver bullion and the various alternatives opened to the investor. As to the purchase of the actual commodity, it notes that you are required to make payment in full and take possession "but, unfortunately, for speculation purposes, you have no leverage, and your capital is completely tied up." In considering trading in commodity futures contracts it notes, " a large deposit is required which is usually quite above the average individual's financial capabilities. Also a high personal networth is required to allow the individual to open his trading account. One is also subject to large margin calls." It then moves us along to the Xantrex plans.

The plan being offered in Ontario is described in Exhibit A-7 under the heading,

"ADVANTAGES OF BULLION PURCHASE PLAN". This plan must be read in conjunction with the contract, the so-called "purchase order", Exhibit A-4. Mr. Gibbs confirmed the details of the plan.

The contract is framed in terms of an agreement for the purchase and sale of gold or silver bullion. The agreement is for gold in units of 20 ounces while silver is offered in 1,000 ounce multiples. The index against which the price of these multiples is fixed is the spot price for the commodity fixed each afternoon by the London Metal Exchange. Because of the time difference, this price is available first thing in the morning in Vancouver and somewhat later in the morning in Ontario. To this price, achieved by multiplying the number of ounces by the London fix a 10% commission is added. There are some other variations to this commission structure which need not be considered for the purpose of these reasons. There are no other hidden charges.

Against this "purchase price", the purchaser of the security is required to advance only 25%. While it is theoretically possible to pay the whole of the "purchase price" and commission at the time the contract is entered into, the only advantage is a commission saving of 2%. The sales literature, however, does not encourage the purchaser to make full payment pointing out that there is no interest charged on the balance for three months.

The purchaser's money is said to be deposited in a trust account to be dealt with only on the happening of several alternative events. During a period of 90 days from the signing of a contract, up to what is styled the "pre-delivery acceptance date" in the contract, the purchaser may require the company to "re-purchase" the bullion which is the subject of the contract at the London fix for that day. This amount once calculated minus the balance owing on the total amount payable on the original calculation plus the sum already paid will give the purchaser his net profit or net loss. Patently the price must rise at least 10% before he makes a profit. Although styled in terms of a purchase and a re-purchase, Xantrex does not cover the contract with actual bullion. Mr. Gibbs stated that a certain percentage of the outstanding contracts are covered through the purchase of commodity futures contracts by Xantrex through its Vancouver broker.

As is disclosed in Section F of the contract, if the contract has not been closed out through the "re-purchase" procedure, four alternatives appear open at the end of the 90 days. Firstly, subject to the third alternative, the purchaser may request Xantrex to "re-purchase" the bullion and liquidate the contract in a manner similar to that discussed above. Secondly, subject to the third alternative, the purchaser may pay the full balance of the amount payable under the original contract and request delivery of the bullion. Thirdly, under section F(14), if Xantrex fails to deliver the bullion within 21 days from the pre-delivery acceptance date or fails to re-purchase the bullion as provided within 10 business days from the pre-delivery acceptance date or if Xantrex is placed in bankruptcy or liquidation, the purchaser is entitled to the refund of the money paid on the contract together with interest at 7%. Fourthly, if the purchaser does not accept good delivery of the bullion as provided or does not elect to "re-sell" the bullion to the company or merely fails to communicate any decision to Xantrex then after the expiry of "the appropriate time period" the trust money is released to Xantrex and Xantrex effects a "re-purchase" calculated as previously discussed, being obliged to pay any net proceeds to the purchaser.

Mr. Gibbs testified that at least one purchaser had taken delivery of bullion under such a contract. The sales literature and the nature of the agreement make it perfectly clear that the intent is that the purchaser is invited to wager the London spot price of the commodity will go up by more than the 10% "commission" levied by Xantrex during the 90-day term of the contract. In the end result the ultimate right of the purchaser, if Xantrex fails to live up to its obligations to either deliver the bullion or "re-purchase" the bullion, is to demand the return of his money with interest at 7% and, failing the return of the money, to take appropriate action in the courts. The purchaser's investment remains entirely at risk with Xantrex. Honesty, reputation, financial viability, business judgement and experience are all factors to be considered in assessing the real risk the investor is being asked to undertake. None of these questions was answered during the course of the hearing excepting in superficial and self-serving way by Mr. Gibbs.

While this scheme is quite different to that of the Pacific Coast Coin Exchange, the observations of the Commission, subsequently cited with approval by the Divisional Court in its as yet unreported decision in Re Pacific Coast Coin Exchange of Canada Limited and Monex International Limited appear equally appropriate. The Commission stated (1974 O.S.C.B. 209 at 206),

"Because of the nature of this investment plan, the importance of a prospectus relating to the affairs of the issuer and the security offered is obvious. Firstly, since the investor is at risk under the contract, he under the Act is required to be given a good deal of information about Monex and its assets and liabilities. The security being offered, the investment plan, must be objectively described. Not only must the prospectus contain full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities offered but, under section 61(1) of the Act before the Director can accept the prospectus for filing, he must be satisfied that the issuer can meet the obligations it has undertaken. It is important too that the persons offering these contracts to the public should hold registration to trade in these securities."

Mr. Justice Houlden, who gave the unanimous decision of the Divisional Court dismissing the Monex appeal, carefully reviewed the law developed in the United States as to what is an "investment contract". An investment contract is one of the kinds of agreement defined as a "security" in section 1(1)22 of the Act. After reviewing the cases, and finding the Monex contract to be an investment contract on each of several tests, His Lordship went on to state,

" Although I have dealt with the meaning of "investment contract" as it has been interpreted by the courts of the United States, I would have preferred to have given the words a much wider meaning. In my opinion, the tests propounded in the American cases are too rigid and restrictive and if literally applied, could defeat the purposes of Securities legislation i.e. "the protection of the investing public through full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities being issued": Re Ontario Securities Commission & Brigadoon Scotch Distributors (Canada) Ltd., (1970) 3 O.R. 714 at 717. As McDermid J.A. said in R. v. Great Way Merchandising Ltd., supra, at p. 77 an investment contract is "one which provides for investment". And then quoting from Stout C.J. in Commissioner of Taxes v. Australian Mutual Provident Society (1903), 22 N.Z.L.R. 445 at p. 450, he defined investment as "the putting-out of money". This definition accords with the much simpler definition given by Murphy J. in the Howey case supra at p. 298 where after referring to certain decisions of state courts, he said:

"An investment contract thus came to mean a contract or scheme for 'the placing of capital or laying out of money in a way intended to secure income or profit from its employment'."

If this were the test of what constitutes an investment contract, then adopting the words of Murphy J. in the Howey case, form can be disregarded for substance and emphasis placed upon economic reality. When "investment contract" is given this interpretation, it undoubtedly casts a wide net, but the Court can narrow its sweep by applying the test of economic reality."

This decision, now being appealed by Monex, was relied upon by Xantrex's counsel in support of his proposition that the substance of this contract is that it is a commodity contract. He noted the dissimilarities between it and the Pacific Coast margin account. Subject to the comments which we make below, so far as the purchaser is concerned, this is a contract providing for investment and therefore a security.

Before concluding, we wish to note again our concern that these contracts may in reality be gaming contracts and therefore illegal. This kind of question was considered in a line of civil actions in which the provisions of what is now section 341 of The Criminal Code (Canada) were raised as a defence. In each of these cases a commodity futures contract executed on a commodity exchange is involved. The cases are Beamish v. James Richardson & Sons Ltd. (1914), 49 S.C.R. 595, Maloof, v. Bichell & Co. 59 S.C.R. 429, and Prudential Exchange Co. v. Edwards (1939) S.C.R. 135. The question discussed in these cases is whether the parties who had entered into a commodity futures contract through which they had agreed to sell and purchase specific quantities of specific grades or qualities of a specific commodity by a time certain and at an agreed price was a gaming contract within the ambit of the predecessor to section 341 and therefore unenforceable. These contracts, of course, are quite different from the ones we are considering in the present case where the purchaser is not obliged to purchase nor the seller to deliver the physical commodity. In a leading English case, Universal Stock Exchange v. Strachan (1896) A.C. 166, the House of Lords held that where the real intent of the parties is merely to settle differences instead of an intent, in that case, to actually deliver shares the contract is illegal as a gaming contract and is not made legal by the fact that the contract provides that delivery may be required by either party. These are questions which we suggest are worthy of further consideration by Xantrex's counsel and other authorities.

Subject to the concern expressed in the previous paragraph, we have concluded that the contract is a security within the meaning of The Securities Act and that all trading in the securities of Xantrex Management Corporation should cease until such time as an appropriate prospectus is submitted and accepted for filing in accordance with The Securities Act.

This hearing was convened in accordance with the provisions of section 8 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, as amended (the "Act") through a notice of hearing dated March 2nd, 1973, which was served on the parties on the same date. The allegations contained in the notice gave rise to concern as to the fitness for continued registration under the Act of W.D. Latimer Co. Limited (the "Dealer") as a broker and broker-dealer, George Onuska, Jr. ("Onuska") as a salesman, and whether the permission granted to William Dugald Latimer ("Latimer") and William Longmuir Henderson ("Henderson") to act as trading officers of the dealer should be withdrawn. The question in each case is whether the right to trade in securities of the Dealer, Latimer, Henderson and Onuska should be suspended, cancelled or in the case of the trading officers effectively suspended or cancelled.

The proceedings were stayed between October 3rd, 1973, and January 27th, 1975, while applications were made under The Judicial Review Procedure Act, 1971, S.O. 1971, c. 48, on behalf of the parties to the Divisional Court of The Supreme Court of Ontario for an order prohibiting the Commission panel from proceeding. The order of the Divisional Court was appealed by the parties to the Ontario Court of Appeal. The relief requested was refused.

During this period a member of the panel, Commissioner James G.K. Strathy, retired from the Commission when his appointment lapsed. Since, under section 2(3) of the Act, two members of the Commission constitute a quorum and the Commission staff's case had been substantially concluded, with the benefit of a transcript of the 1973 proceedings we proceeded to hear the remainder of the evidence and argument.

Upon the hearing reconvening on January 27th, 1975, Mr. Laidlaw, on behalf of Onuska, advised us that Onuska had terminated his employment as a salesman with the Dealer during 1974. He submitted that since under section 6(4) of the Act the termination of registration as a salesman operates as a withdrawal of the registration of the salesman until such time as the salesman is employed by another dealer, we no longer had jurisdiction. While we believe that there is a residual registration which could be affected by our order since Onuska's registration will lapse on April 21st, 1975, and since we were advised by Mr. Laidlaw that Onuska had no intention of applying for reinstatement of his registration prior to that date or indeed any present intention of re-entering the securities business, we accepted a written undertaking from Onuska that he would not reapply for registration under the Act for a period of at least 2 years and terminated these proceedings so far as Onuska was concerned. In tendering the undertaking, Mr. Laidlaw made it clear that his client did not admit wrong doing. We noted that Onuska was the central figure on the evidence to that point. In order to make a determination as to the fitness for continued participation in the securities business of the Dealer, Latimer and Henderson, it would be necessary and is necessary to make findings as to Onuska's conduct. Under these circumstances, Mr. Laidlaw retired. Onuska was not represented for the balance of the hearing. If Onuska, at some future time, wishes to re-enter the securities field as a registrant, our findings may prove a bar to his re-admission.

Henderson also terminated his association with the Dealer as at December 31, 1974. Mr. Weir, on behalf of Henderson, advised us that he was instructed that Henderson wished to remain a party to these proceedings. Indeed, Henderson gave evidence on his own behalf as did Latimer. At the conclusion of the evidence, we advised Mr. Weir that we found no ground for taking action against Henderson. His role was that of comptroller and office manager. His participation was purely administrative. Indeed, on learning of Gould's involvement in Santack and Gould's doubtful reputation in May, 1971, when the Dealer was considering an underwriting of Santack, he brought this to the attention of Latimer personally.

The staff deferred recommending these proceedings to the Commission for some period of time apparently in the hope that the criminal charges laid against Albert Gould ("Gould"), Frank W. Sparrow II ("Sparrow"), Joseph J. Santoro ("Santoro"), Hugh H. Sutherland, Jr. ("Sutherland"), Ian W. Garratt ("Garratt") and Douglas E. Bannerman ("Bannerman") would be quickly disposed of. Although the evidence taken at the preliminary hearing was not before us, references were made during the course of this hearing from which we could gauge that the accused had been committed for trial but that the trial had not been held. They were committed for trial and an indictment was preferred in The Supreme Court of Ontario on September 6, 1973. In June, 1974, after a lengthy jury trial held before Mr. Justice Morand, Gould, Sparrow and Sutherland were convicted on each of three of the five counts in the indictment and received jail sentences.

Count 1 of this indictment, on which Gould, Sparrow and Sutherland were convicted and Garratt and Bannerman acquitted, reads as follows:

"THAT ALBERT GOULD, FRANK W. SPARROW II, JOSEPH J. SANTORO, HUGH H. SUTHERLAND, JR., IAN W. GARRATT AND DOUGLAS E. BANNERMAN between the 1st day of March, 1969, and the first day of October, 1971, at the Municipality of Metropolitan Toronto in the Judicial District of York and elsewhere in Canada unlawfully did conspire together one with the other and with George Onuska, W.D. Latimer & Co. Limited, Jack A. Huggins, Istvan Stauder and with another person or persons unknown to defraud the public of money and other valuable securities by deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means during the promotion of, and purchase and sale of shares of, Santack Mines Limited contrary to Sections 423(1)(d) and 338(1) of The Criminal Code of Canada."

So far as the Dealer and Onuska are concerned, this is the conduct referred to in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 of the notice of hearing. We have not weighed into account the fourth allegation, the violation of Toronto Stock Exchange By-Law 15.28, feeling this is a matter for the Exchange. As to Latimer, we have examined his conduct in the light of paragraph 5 of the notice.

There is now no question, in light of the jury's findings on count 1 of the indictment, as to the quality of the conduct of the parties, particularly Gould and Sparrow, during the period January to June, 1971, in which the Dealer through Onuska actively assisted them in their criminal purpose. This participation was through a direct telephone link between the Dealer's offices and the desk of Gould and later Gould and Sparrow at the premises of Sutherland's mining consulting firm at 12 Richmond Street East in Toronto. There was ample evidence placed before us for the purpose of these proceedings to support the jury's findings so far as the conduct of Gould and Sparrow as central actors are concerned. In terms of the allegations in the notice of hearing, we have examined the conduct of Onuska, Latimer and Henderson. The relevant events placed before us are as follows.

Through a prospectus accepted for filing on October 16th, 1970, 40,000 shares of Santack Mines Limited ("Santack") underwritten at $1.00 per share and 60,000 shares optioned at $1.20 per share by Silvershields Investments Corporation Limited were offered for sale through Yorkton Securities Limited as agent for the underwriter at a maximum public offering price of $1.20 for the underwritten shares and $1.45 for the optioned shares. In addition, the prospectus qualified for sale 75,000 free vendor shares, paid as part of the consideration for mining claims in the Thunder Bay Mining Division, and 14,035 shares optioned by Joseph Santoro at $1.00 per share as repayment of $14,035 Santoro loaned to Santack to enable the company to do some preliminary work on the claims. The available supply of free shares following the distribution was less than 190,000 shares. The balance of 675,000 shares paid for the claims were held by a trustee in escrow.

On the face of the prospectus, control of Santack, through the 675,000 escrowed shares, was vested in Walter Acker, the staker of the claims, Joseph Santoro of Lansing, Michigan, Andrew Merritt of Marshall, Michigan, and Jack Gooderich of Troy, Michigan. These four were the officers and directors of Santack. The prospectus stated that the only person having a more than 5% interest in Silvershields was Geza Rusznyak of Toronto. The names of Sparrow and Gould did not appear in the prospectus.

On January 11, 1971, the Commission were notified by Yorkton that primary distribution on behalf of Silvershields had ceased. On January 26, 1971, Yorkton gave the Commission notice of intention to proceed with the distribution of the free vendor and the Santoro optioned shares.

On January 22nd, 1971, George E. Cochrane attended the Commission offices and made a statement to the duty Investigator, K.J. Maciver, that Gould and Sparrow were the undisclosed promoters of Santack and were in the process of manipulating the market price of Santack shares. The operation was being conducted from Sutherland's office at Suite 611, 12 Richmond Street East, Toronto (the "office"). A direct telephone line had recently been installed between the office and the Dealer. The contact at the Dealer was "George".

The staff commenced an informal investigation into the initial distribution of the Santack shares. On the basis of the facts developed to that point of time, the Commission were requested to and did issue a temporary cease trading order under section 144 of the Act on February 11th, 1971, prohibiting trading in Santack shares. This order was based upon the unexplained rise in the price of Santack shares from the offering price of $1.45 to over $2.00. The order was continued after a public hearing held on February 25th, until March 10th, 1971. Prior to the latter date, Santack made an accurate public statement concerning the developments at its property.

The investigation proceeded. All trading to February 11th was examined. On March 18th, 1971, on the recommendation of staff, the Commission ordered an investigation pursuant to section 21 of the Act into trading in the securities of Santack by named individuals and companies including Gould, Sparrow and Santoro. None of the parties to this hearing were named in that order.

Albert Gould was well and unfavourably known to the Commission who had investigated and successfully prosecuted him for corporate fraud some years ago. His association with the Santack trading gave immediate ground for suspicion. The conduct of the salesmen with whom he was dealing also required careful attention. However, in the absence of an order denying him the right to trade in securities in Ontario and subject to the Dealer complying with the "know your client" rules, Gould is entitled to trade through registrants. The cease trading order and the release by Santack were aimed at cautioning the public. It appears to have served this purpose. However, it did not have the same result so far as several registrants were concerned.

While the direct telephone line from the office to the Dealer gave rise to question, the first allegation of possible improper conduct by the Dealer came on June 2nd, 1971, when the vice-president of a brokerage firm attended upon the then Chairman, E.A. Royce, and the Vice-Chairman and placed his concerns about the possible fraud in the recent Santack trading before them and the extent of the Dealer's participation in that trading. He had seen Latimer earlier the same day and it was partially at the suggestion of Latimer that he visited the Chairman to voice his concerns. The Commission confirmed the seemingly irrational movement upwards in the prices at which Santack had traded and on June 3rd, 1971, issued a second temporary cease trading order. After a public hearing on June 16th and 17th, 1971, this order was made permanent.

Onuska gave evidence at the latter hearing and a transcript of that evidence was filed in these proceedings. His explanation as to the reason for having a direct line installed between the Dealer and the office was not credible. Sutherland's importance as a mining engineer would not warrant the expense to the Dealer. Onuska admitted speaking to Gould over the direct line and providing him with trading information concerning Santack but did not admit trading on Gould's instructions. The evidence as to the nature of these conversations, which implicated Onuska in the criminal conspiracy, was not obtained until later when the staff took statements from those people who worked in or frequented the Sutherland office during the first half of 1971.

Section 138(3) of the Act requires that this proceeding be commenced not more than two years after the facts upon which the proceeding is based first came to the knowledge of the Commission. These proceedings were commenced through the notice issued and served on March 2nd, 1973. Messrs. Weir and Laidlaw directed a good deal of attention to this point during the first part of the hearing. Staff Counsel Johnston took some pains to explore it through production of witnesses and internal memorandum. The Commission's Chief Investigator, D.L. Mitchell, who became associated with the investigation shortly after Mr. Maciver received the original complaint, testified that he first questioned Onuska during June, 1971, but that evidence concerning what Gould was alleged to have said to Onuska over the telephone was not obtained until some time later. Even accepting the doctrine of constructive knowledge that the facts known to the staff are facts known to the Commission, we are satisfied that there were no facts in possession of the staff or the Commission upon which proceedings could have been brought until after June 16th, 1971. Again, we repeat that whatever the grounds for suspicion might have been which led to the investigation, the facts were not developed until some time after.

In order to appreciate the role of the Dealer in the fraud, it is necessary to consider the almost unique position the Dealer occupies in the securities business in Ontario and through that position the special confidence reposed in it by other registrants and financial institutions. W.D. Latimer himself has been associated with the securities business for over 40 years. For the majority of this period, he or a firm bearing his name has been registered as one or other class of securities dealer. He is the president and chief executive officer of the Dealer. The evidence is that Latimer was in charge of the trading room. The Dealer presently holds membership in the Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver Stock Exchanges.

The Dealer is best known as a dealers' dealer, an unlisted stock specialist which trades as a principal with other dealers and financial institutions as opposed to a retail house or broker who trades with the Dealer as an agent for a public client. On Latimer's evidence in 1971, 95% of his firm's business involved trading with other dealers. Only 5% involved trading with the public. 38% of the Dealer's gross income in 1971 came through its trading in unlisted securities such as Santack as principal.

At any given time, according to Latimer, their unlisted traders are prepared to call a market on upwards of 700 different stocks. Onuska, in his 1971 testimony, estimated that at that time the Dealer was actively calling a market in 400 stocks. Another dealer, having a client wishing to buy or sell a particular unlisted security, must look for a dealer wanting to sell or buy the stock. Since the Dealer calls a market in so many stocks and has a direct line to virtually every other dealer, it is natural they will seek the market from the Dealer. If the Dealer calls a market, he takes the responsibility of purchasing or selling at least one board lot of that stock, at the bid and ask price that he quotes.

The Dealer encourages these enquiries by installing direct telephone lines to almost every dealer and a number of additional financial institutions in Toronto; well over 100 direct lines. They also have direct lines to branch offices in Montreal and Vancouver and a direct line to New York. There were a series of public lines where a client might telephone in through dialing. In addition, there were direct lines to promoters' and underwriters' offices and a direct line to the Sutherland office. The direct line rings by either pushing a button or lifting the receiver. Dialing is not necessary.

The trading room, according to photographs filed, held some nine positions for unlisted traders whose desks were arranged in an irregular rectangle. On each of the trader's desks is a telephone console with a push button for each of the direct lines described above, with each console being the duplicate of the other. Any position could answer any telephone. Excepting for the public lines, which permitted the normal dialing in and out, by simply pushing the appropriate console button you answered or rang the telephone at the other end of the line. In the photograph filed, Onuska and Latimer were at opposite corners of the rectangle.

The object in professional trading is to maintain as small an inventory of shares as possible. While, as Latimer testified, it is not often possible to precisely match the number of shares of a particular company purchased during a day with the number of shares sold, this is the ideal result. The profit is the spread between the price at which the shares are purchased and the price at which they are sold. Each of the traders is responsible for a particular group of stocks. Onuska, for instance, was responsible during the period January, 1971, to June, 1971, for all the Dealer's trading in Santack, including the prices at which the Dealer would buy or sell the stock. Onuska called the Santack market for the Dealer. Another trader, receiving an order for Santack, would transfer the call to Onuska. For the information of the other traders, the market being called by the responsible trader was chalked on a board and as the trader changed the market it was his responsibility to pass this information along to the board marker. If the responsible trader is absent or otherwise engaged, any other trader might enter into a board lot transaction but no larger. Any trader could give quotations from the Board.

By making a market on a broad range of stocks and facilitating trading through direct lines, enquiries from other dealers and financial institutions are encouraged. The Latimer firm on our information is by far the most active Ontario unlisted trader. Offers to purchase and sell are made to it. It thus becomes the repository of accurate information as to the depth of the market in particular stocks. Latimer made it clear that they do not pass this information along to other dealers. Behind this veil of confidentiality, using their unique position, they are able to match orders and make a profit.

Staff investigation accountant, A.A. Gibel, sent our questionnaires to all Ontario dealers and analyzed the Santack trading. He testified that during the period January 11th, 1971, when the dealer commenced to trade Santack to June 3rd, 1971, when trading was stopped some 1,351,700 shares of Santack were purchased through all registrants, 436,100 of these by the Dealer, and 1,394,800 shares were sold, with 435,950 by the Dealer. As the result of this trading, the Dealer made a gross profit of about $29,000. They were left with only 150 shares of Santack. By contrast, the four brokers named in one of the counts in the indictment were left with approximately $385,000 worth of the shares purchased for the Gould groups' accounts.

We have concluded on the evidence before us that W.D. Latimer Co. Limited through the actions of George Onuska, Jr. actively assisted Gould and his associates in the creation of a false and misleading appearance with respect to the market price of the securities of Santack. This was done by accepting instructions from Gould primarily and possibly Sparrow. While it is difficult to believe that Onuska would not appreciate the nature and consequences of the role he assumed at the best, one must conclude that he participated with a wilful and reckless indifference to the consequences, particularly, when put on notice as to the Commission's concern through the first cease trading order. The facts upon which these conclusions are based include the following.

During January, 1971, Onuska was persuaded by an acquaintance, Sutherland, to install a direct line to Sutherland's office. Onuska claims the installation was approved by Latimer while Latimer states that Onuska had authority to have the line installed. No real business reason has been given by either of them for it. The only conclusion is that its purpose was to facilitate Gould's trading in Santack to the profit of the Dealer and without regard for the public or their fellow dealers.

Gould and his associates opened accounts and traded Santack through a number of brokers including Yorkton Securities Inc., Bouchard & Co. Limited, McLeod, Young Weir & Company Limited, Mills, Spence Ltd., Bell Gouinlock & Company Limited and Nesbitt, Thomson and Company Limited. Through their own knowledge and the active assistance of Onuska, they were able to size and control the market. A substantial number of the outstanding float of 190,000 shares were under their control or direction or the holders of the securities were known to them. This is demonstrated by the evidence of the witnesses and corroborated by the handwritten trading sheets produced by Mr. Cochrane or found by the police during the search of Garratt's and Sparrow's residences. These were analyzed by Mr. Gibel and verified painstakingly through documents of original entry. Trading information flowed to and from Onuska. Requests for information and trading instructions were given by Gould to Onuska. The evidence of Ms. Salus and Bannerman, Stauder and Huggins and, in this particular of Mr. Cochrane, all support this conclusion. D.S. Robertson's testimony, in which he described a conversation with Gould in which Gould told him to expect an order from the Dealer which was immediately followed by an order from Onuska, is direct evidence of the more general evidence as to the nature of the conversations between Onuska and Gould. Onuska was identified as being in the office. It is virtually inconceivable that he would not know that he was assisting in an attempted market manipulation.

Bannerman's evidence suggests that Gould was a student of the law on market manipulation. Realizing that trading between the group might be viewed as "wash trading", a form of criminal market manipulation, Bannerman questioned Gould. Gould's response was to the effect that with the Dealer interposed, purchasing and selling for its own account, there was a real change of ownership and therefore no wash trade. While there is no evidence from either Onuska or Latimer that they agreed with or were conscious of this theory, the interpositioning of the Dealer between the managed accounts does reduce the chance of casual disclosure as between the buying and selling retail brokers that the purchase and sale are for the same or associated accounts. The theory disappears if Onuska is a party as appears the case here.

Mr. Sheard offered the theory that the Gould groups' activity took two steps. During the first of these an appearance of public market activity was created. The price was arbitrarily moved upwards in the hope the general public would be induced to purchase the stock. This operation was interrupted by the first cease trading order but resumed shortly after the order was rescinded. This attempted fraud was relatively unsuccessful. Using the facilities of certain bank branches and trading in certain of the managed accounts on a "D.A.P." or delivery against payment basis, the broker agreeing to purchase Santack for the account and deliver it to the bank for payment, the brokers did extend to certain of the Gould-Sparrow managed accounts lines of credit. When the Gould group failed in their attempt to induce the public to purchase the stock, they simply walked away from the accounts. No arrangements having been made with the banks to pay for the stock, they refused to accept delivery. The clients proved to be men of straw. The brokers were forced to accept the loss.

The purchasing brokers, as is the custom of the business, must pay the selling broker for the stock and take delivery. Onuska had no concern about his firm being caught because their sales were to other dealers who were obliged to pay and take delivery.

It should be noted in passing that the jury in June, 1974, apparently viewed the brokers in some measure as the authors of their own harm in failing to make adequate enquiries about their new clients and their credit worthiness. They acquitted the accused on a charge of defrauding four named brokers of money and other valuable securities to an amount of approximately $385,000.

Turning now to the position of W.D. Latimer, Onuska was an employee and the most junior of the traders in the trading room. His attitude, as exemplified by his conduct, we view as a reflection of the standards of his superior, W.D. Latimer. As Mr. Sheard suggests, Latimer may be an anachronism, a product of the standards of business morality which flourished in less regulated times. Latimer gave his evidence in a straightforward and candid manner. No doubt by his own light he is a moral man. But he sees no evil and hears no evil. He derives comfort from the fact that he deals with professionals, the retail dealers who accepted the accounts of Gould and his associates. He takes further comfort from the fact the Commission lifted the Santack cease trading order rather than viewing it as a caution light. There is no evidence that he views his firm as having any responsibility excepting to stay within the law and not to lose money.

If he is believed Latimer neglected to exercise any responsibility for the direction and supervision of his traders. Onuska did not need his approval to install the line. He exercised no supervision over his traders: to do so would be tantamount to spying. When in the latter part of May, 1971, Henderson came to him and expressed his concern about Gould's association with Santack, Latimer reviewed the trading to see that they were not holding too many shares and warned Onuska not to expose the firm to financial risk. Santack by then had been traded at up to $5.00. He questioned Onuska about the gyrations of the stock and accepted Onuska's explanation that nothing was wrong. He believed the direct line was to an engineer named Sutherland, whom he met, and whose father he knew. He claims he did not know who Albert Gould was and made no further enquiries about Gould when Henderson spoke to him excepting to speak to Onuska.

While the Gould-Sutherland direct line was removed, we are informed, in June, 1971, a list of direct lines installed to the Dealer as at March 30th, 1972, included eleven persons or companies where the majority of the associated individuals are known as promoters. For a promoter to have a direct line to the Dealer's trading consoles is akin, in the unlisted market, to the promoter having a direct line to the trading floor of the Toronto Stock Exchange. To the extent that this Dealer is considered the hub of unlisted trading in Ontario there can be little doubt as to the mutual benefits that must have existed for the promoter and the Dealer for Latimer to have approved or acquiesced in the installation of the lines. At the least, there must be a mutual exchange of confidential or inside information. Gould has demonstrated the value of such a line to a promoter who, with some co-operation from the Dealer, wishes to control, maintain or manipulate a market. Any of these alternatives is repugnant to us. It was for this reason that at the conclusion of the argument we instructed that all such lines be removed. In addition, we imposed an immediate condition on the registration of W.D. Latimer Co. Limited -

- (a) that no direct lines should be installed to underwriters and promoters; and
- (b) that direct lines to other than Ontario dealers, the Dealer's

Montreal and Vancouver branch offices, and Canadian chartered banks and Ontario registered trust companies, should be installed only with the approval of the Director.

Turning to the question of penalty, apart from the conditions on registration noted above, we are directing our attention to W.D. Latimer personally rather than the Dealer. The Dealer does provide a useful service to the dealer community and their retail clients in maintaining markets for a wide range of unlisted securities. It has other owners besides Latimer. The role it played in the Santack fraud may well lessen the firm's credibility in the dealer community. To suspend the Dealer's registration would be to punish numbers of employees not involved in or responsible for the Onuska activity.

As to W.D. Latimer, he must accept the prime responsibility for Onuska's participation in this affair. He is the president and chief executive officer of the Dealer, in charge of the trading room and responsible for his traders. He was normally present in the room. He has the knowledge, experience, ability and capacity to supervise. If his evidence is believed, he completely abdicated that responsibility and permitted the most juniors of his traders to place the registration of his firm in jeopardy. The standard of ethics followed in the trading room was inevitably that set by Latimer. Even to-day, with full knowledge of the facts, he appears to find no fault in Onuska's conduct. He testified that the only reason for terminating Onuska's employment was economic. His explanations are unacceptable. It strains credulity to believe that Albert Gould could have been manipulating a market with the assistance of one of his traders for a matter of some five months without his knowing it. He abdicated his responsibility not only to the other officers, directors and shareholders of his company and to his employees but to other dealers and through them to the public clients whom they served.

In law, the right of William Dugald Latimer to trade is derived from his position as president of W.D. Latimer Co. Limited. To effectively suspend this right to trade, it is necessary to withdraw this privilege by withdrawing the permission granted for him to trade as an officer of the company through section 6 of the Act. This we do and direct that William Dugald Latimer should not be permitted to trade in any capacity for or on behalf of W.D. Latimer Co. Limited for a period of three months commencing on Monday, March 31st, 1975, and during this period he shall not participate in the business activities of W.D. Latimer Co. Limited.

As to William Longmuir Henderson for the reasons previously given, we have concluded that the evidence would not have affected his right to continued recognition as a trading officer. His role was administrative. He had no responsibility for supervising Onuska's activities. When he did learn of Gould's association with Santack and of Gould's unsavoury reputation, he brought this to the attention of his superior, W.D. Latimer.

Before concluding, it is appropriate to make comment about the circumstances which resulted in losses to at least four brokers. They did not follow the "know your client" procedure which is designed for their protection as well as their clients. One must question what attempt, if any, was made to verify the statements made in the account opening forms. The assurances of the salesmen who hoped to benefit from the commissions appear to have been accepted without real question. Information given in the forms was inaccurate or false. It is only because these firms were in the end result the victims of their own lack of caution and most of the salesmen who introduced the accounts are no longer registered that we do not suggest to the Toronto Stock Exchange that they review the conduct of their several members to determine whether they have complied with the Exchange requirements. We find the extension of credit through the so-called "D.A.P." accounts questionable without some written assurances from the bank that they would accept delivery when the effect is to extend credit to a client who has not established his credit worthiness in any reasonable way.

CORPORATE NAMES

In the course of reviewing a recent filing it was discovered by the Commission staff that the name of the filing company, newly incorporated in Ontario, was exactly the same as the name of an existing British Columbia company engaged in the same field of endeavour.

This points up the responsibility of the solicitors incorporating a company to ensure that its name is not the same as or deceptively similar to the name of an existing company. The name searches made by Companies Division of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations extend only to the names of companies incorporated or licensed to do business in Ontario. Solicitors should, therefore, make their own searches for conflicting names that may have been granted in other jurisdictions.

In cases where it is found that the name of a company whose securities are offered in Ontario conflicts with the name of some other company, the Director will recommend the making of a cease-trading order pending resolution of the conflict.

Notice

ONTARIO SECURITIES COMMISSION

NOTICE

Many investors have expressed concern as to their tax position in respect of securities against which cease-trading orders are outstanding and the Commission has noted the difficulty of establishing capital losses in these circumstances.

Of some 300 cease-trading orders presently outstanding, the great majority are directed against the shares of exploration companies which, usually for lack of funds, have not prepared and sent to shareholders the financial information required under the Act. It can be assumed in almost all of these cases that reactivation of the company is unlikely and that, after perhaps many years, the company's charter will be cancelled for failure to file information returns. In the case of Ontario-incorporated companies, the Commission has initiated a procedure which hopefully will accelerate the process, leading to either the reactivation or dissolution of a company within approximately one year's time.

At the Commission's request, the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations has issued notices under section 251(2a) of The Business Corporations Act to the companies named below. The effect of the Minister's notices is that orders dissolving these companies will be issued unless the required financial information is provided within one year's time.

The Commission will publish, on an on-going basis, particulars of dissolution orders.

This is an appeal by way of hearing and review taken on behalf of the Royal Trust Managed Funds ("Funds") pursuant to section 28 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, as amended (the "Act") from a decision dated March 27th, 1975, issued by the Director under section 61 of the Act in which he refused to accept a document submitted to him in accordance with a procedure designed to expedite the annual refiling under section 56 of the Act and thus ensuring the ability of The Royal Trust Company ("Royal Trust") to continue the distribution of units of Royal Trust Fund "A" (Fund "A"), Royal Trust Fund "B" (Fund "B") and Royal Trust Fund "C" (Fund "C"). These units are currently qualified for sale to the Ontario public through what is termed combined or multiple prospectuses. The qualification for public distribution through the document currently accepted for filing lapses at the end of April. The draft document submitted to the Director, which both he and we have dealt with as though it were a signed, final document submitted for filing under section 56, followed the form of the document for which a receipt had previously issued. The draft document is dated and would presumably be signed following April 30th, 1975, and, if a receipt for it were issued within 20 days of the anniversary date, the continuing right to distribute the units of the three funds in Ontario would be preserved. The Director, in effect, through his decision advised Funds that he was not prepared to issue a receipt although his decision is in terms of an outright refusal.

During the spring of 1974, the Commission's attention was directed to the then existing practice of the Director of issuing receipts for combined or multiple prospectuses. The common elements in these cases were that the several issuers whose prospectuses were combined in one document were always mutual funds under common sponsorship and management. The issuers, whose securities were qualified for sale through the multiple prospectuses, were both companies or trusts or a combination of the two. There were a number of common elements to the issuers - management company, methods of distributions, sales charges, and rights of withdrawal being some of these. However, each issuer was a separate legal entity, separately administered with its own specific investment policies, objectives and restrictions. In the effort to comply with the Act and the regulations, a series of certificates were appended to the document, signed by the appropriate officers, directors and trustees for each of the issuers stating that the document made full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities of that particular issuer being offered through that multiple prospectuses to which that certificate related. There were arguments of cost and convenience for the sponsor. Indeed, viewing the prospectus as a selling document, it may be properly argued that where the sponsor-manager offers a range of products the multiple prospectus through a proper marshalling of the differences and the similarities of these products enables the investor to determine which of the several securities might best meet his investment objectives.

The Commission, for the reasons similar to those explored below, concluded that the Act requires that a prospectus should confine itself to describing the affairs of a single issuer and the securities of that issuer being offered through that prospectus. While it is true that in certain notable exceptions such as the recent BM-RT Ltd. and BM-RT Realty Investments where the Commission viewed it as a requirement that the persons loaning money to the company which in turn loans it to the trust be satisfied that the guarantees of the trust to repay the loan have some substance and that the persons asked to purchase units of the trust be made aware of the burden of obligation being undertaken by the trust through its borrowings from the company, prospectus quality disclosure was required as to both entities. The sponsors took the opportunity to offer securities of both issuers through the two separate prospectuses which were filed and bound together. As the Director noted in his reasons, their affairs are inextricably interwoven. In the absence of such a requirement, the Commission concluded that multiple prospectuses, in the language of section 61(1)(a)(i) of the Act failed to comply with the requirements of the Act and the regulations.

This view was discussed with the majority of provincial securities administrators who met for the purpose of considering matters of mutual concern at Yellowknife in August, 1974. The Commission's views were confirmed by their colleagues. It was recognised that it would appear both arbitrary and unreasonable to immediately impose these views on mutual fund sponsors, including trust companies when the practice had been permitted to proliferate without any real question until the previous spring. The legislation and regulations in the majority of provinces are similar to the Ontario Act. In the interests of uniformity, it was agreed that we would make our views known immediately but we would not enforce them until January 1st, 1975. Since the annual renewal for many mutual funds occurs in March and April this was intended to give the major mutual fund sponsors six months' notice.

The Commission made its views known in the announcement in its September, 1974 Bulletin (page 158) quoted by the Director. It will be noted that although it has been referred to as such this is not a policy statement designed to act as a bench mark in the exercise of discretion.

Dealing with the facts before us, the Declaration of Trust made by The Royal Trust Company in accordance with the laws of Manitoba on July 29th, 1966, as subsequently amended, creates Fund "A", Fund "B" and Fund "C" which the declaration styles the "Royal Trust Managed Funds". While under the declaration there are many common elements - the trustee and manager of each of these funds is the Royal Trust, the rules regarding units of participation in each fund, admissions to and withdrawals from each fund, registration of the units, a limit on the amount of the assets of each fund which can be invested in one issuer, the manner of valuing each of the funds and the individual units of each of the funds, computation and distribution of income and net realized capital gains, accounting and participation records, audits and reports - there are substantial and significant distinctions between the funds. Each of the funds has separate and distinct purposes and investment powers. Each of them is segregated from the others. The management fees and expenses charged by the trustee are separately described. The funds are accounted for separately. The trustee may terminate a fund and upon termination distribute its assets rateably to all the participants in the fund.

We were urged to find that there is but one issuer, the Royal Trust Managed Funds, who issues three different types of securities. The facts recited above do not sustain this position. Through the one instrument, the declaration of trust, three distinct trusts or issuers have been created each of whom must file a separate and distinct prospectus describing the issuer and the securities of that issuer which it is proposed be distributed.

The prospectus requirements found in modern securities legislation have their origins in the Companies Act passed in the United Kingdom in 1844 which enacted the first modern prospectus requirements. The prospectus described the issuer and the securities of that issuer which it was proposed be offered to the public. Indeed, prospectus requirements are still found in many companies acts, including the present Canada Corporations Act.

This concept, that a prospectus should be descriptive of an issuer and the securities of that issuer which it is proposed be offered, is carried forward in the present Securities Act. The requirement that a prospectus be filed before securities can be distributed to the public is found in section 35. If it is proposed, as in the present case, that the distribution be continued for more than one year section 56 makes provision for the annual refiling. Section 41 requires that the prospectus provide full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the security proposed to be issued and that the prospectus shall comply as to form and content with the requirements of the Act and the regulations. "Distribution to the public" is defined in clause 6a of subsection 1 of section 1 to include trades that are made for the purpose of distributing to the public securities issued by a company and not previously distributed to the public. Section 66 recognizes that the issuer may be some business form other than a company and states that the provisions of that Part and the regulations apply mutatis mutandis to the person, trust or other entity. The form of the prospectus for a mutual fund or open end investment trust is provided for by section 18 and Form 18 of the regulations. Section 52 of the Act requires that the prospectus be certified by specific officers and directors of the company (issuer). In the present case, the appropriate officers and directors of the trustee, The Royal Trust Company, propose certifying the combined prospectuses.

Under section 64 of the Act, the prospectus must be furnished to each purchaser and an agreement of purchase and sale is not binding on the purchaser for at least two days after he receives the prospectus. The directors certifying the prospectus are subject to a special liability to the purchaser under section 142 if the prospectus contains a material false statement.

These are some of the attributes of a prospectus. It is for the benefit of the investor. It describes the issuer and the securities offered. It establishes rights, obligations and liabilities between parties who may not be directly involved in the actual agreement of purchase and sale of the securities. In our judgement, the Act does not contemplate the intermingling of information concerning several issuers in one document notwithstanding the fact that there may be a substantial number of similarities including, as in the present case, the same sponsor-manager-distributor. Arranging the information in this fashion may be of great convenience to the sponsor-manager-distributor in his offering of a range of products to the public.

In the present case, the dangers are not so apparent because of the similarities in the attributes of the three products being offered. In the cases which gave rise to our concern a year ago, the multiple prospectuses intermingled several product lines of the same sponsor-manager-distributor where the legal forms of the issuers were both trusts and companies.

We have, therefore, concluded that the document in question, the combined or multiple prospectuses, ought to be refused under section 61 as not being in compliance with the Act. In the alternative, if we are in error in finding that multiple prospectuses do not meet the requirements of the Act we nevertheless think that there are enough differences in these funds to warrant the Director exercising his discretion and requiring separate prospectuses. We believe that the Director properly exercised his discretion in being that combined or multiple prospectuses ought not to be accepted for filing. In any event, should signed, final material be presented to the Director in its present form rather than as three separate and distinct prospectuses, one for each of the three funds, the Director should properly refuse to issue a receipt.

Introduction

This hearing was convened to consider applications made by Toronto-Dominion Centre Limited (the "Applicant") under sections 119(2), 152 and 185(2) of The Business Corporations Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 53, as amended (the "BCA") for an order exempting the applicant from the mandatory solicitation of proxies and preparing and forwarding information circulars to shareholders, the insider reporting requirements and the furnishing of interim financial statements required by the BCA. The basis of the application is that all of the outstanding shares of the Applicant are held in equal parts by two shareholders, the Cadillac Fairview Corporation Limited ("Cadillac") and The Toronto-Dominion Bank (the "Bank").

The Applicant is subject to the requirements from which it asks to be relieved by virtue of its being deemed to be "offering its securities to the public" under section 1(9) of the BCA by reason of its having distributed debt securities, First Mortgage Sinking Bonds - Series A, B and C, to the public through prospectuses filed with the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") pursuant to The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1960, c. 353, and with the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations pursuant to The Corporations Information Act, R.S.O. 1960, c. 72. Three additional series of bonds, D, E and F, were distributed to the public but since these bonds are guaranteed by the Bank no prospectus was required by virtue of the exemptions contained in what is now section 19(2)1(c) and section 58(2)(a) of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, as amended (the "Act"). The application notes that the principal amount of the first three series of bonds is over $60,000,000 and that they are held by 135 investors in Canada and the United States. The principal amount of the last three series of bonds is over $73,000,000 which are in the hands of some 1,375 investors.

Certain continuous disclosure requirements flow from the Applicant's status as a public offering company under the BCA. The applicant has not complied with these in respect to proxy and information circular, insider reporting and interim financial statement obligations. Through this application, the Applicant seeks to be completely exempted from complying.

The Decision

After reading the application, the written submissions and listening to counsel, we concluded that the application should be granted in part and refused in part for the reasons then briefly orally expressed and elaborated on below. Our decision, since confirmed through the formal order, was as follows:

- (1) The applicant is exempted from soliciting the proxies from shareholders required by section 117 of the BCA.
- (2) The applicant is exempted from the requirement that it should send an information circular to its shareholders in accordance with section 118(1)(a) of the BCA provided that the facts required to be disclosed in such a circular are and continue to be filed with the Commission within the time that it would otherwise have to be sent to the shareholders.
- (3) The present and future directors and senior officers of the Bank and Cadillac and their affiliates are exempted from the insider reporting requirements of section 148 of the BCA so long as they do not own any of the Applicant's securities.
- (4) The applicant is exempted from the requirement to send its shareholders a copy of the interim financial statement required by section 185(1) of the BCA provided that a copy is and continues to be filed with the Commission within the time that it would have otherwise have to be sent to the shareholders.

The Reasons

The basis for granting the exemption in part is that the shareholders have no need for the information that would otherwise be required to be sent to them. The basis for denying the application in part or conditioning the exemptions granted is that the information should be available for the information and protection of the public bond holders. To have granted unqualified exemptions would have eliminated this protection since it would have effectively exempted the Applicant from the requirements of section 134 of the Act and section 65 of the regulations to the Act. Those sections require the Applicant to file with the Commission for its public files the information which the BCA requires that its public offering companies send to their shareholders. Thus the information becomes available for all investors, whether they are holders of equity or debt securities.

The Act imposes a direct obligation on non-Ontario companies to file disclosure information with the Commission on a continuing basis for the information and protection of all investors. The scheme of the legislation enacted in 1966 and continued through the BCA and the Act was that the direct disclosure requirements for Ontario companies be imposed through the BCA with the link being provided through the requirements imposed on Ontario companies by section 134 of the Act and section 65 of its regulations. These two sections require Ontario public offering companies to file with the Commission the information which they are required to furnish to their shareholders at the time they are required to send it to their shareholders. As noted previously, a complete exemption under the BCA from the requirements to file or furnish to their shareholders would act as an exemption from section 134 and section 65 of the Act and regulations.

The Applicant placed great emphasis on the decision of the Court of Appeal in Re Niagara Wire Weaving Co. Ltd. (1971) 3 O.R. 633 and, in particular, the general statement of Kelly J.A. at page 637:

"I do not consider that the informing of prospective investors is one of the purposes of The Business Corporations Act 1970 since the interests of that class of persons is so specifically and so carefully cared for by The Securities Act, 1966, and the Regulations made under it."

As we have noted, the interests of investors in Ontario companies is carefully cared for in an identical but parallel fashion to the interests of investors in non-Ontario companies through the combined effect of the BCA, the Act and the regulations to the Act.

In the Niagara Wire Weaving application the company claimed, in the terms of section 173(3) of the BCA, that it should be permitted to omit the figures showing sales or gross operating revenue from its financial statements on the ground that the disclosure of such information would be unduly detrimental to the interests of the corporation. In the present case, the Commission is asked to find that there is adequate justification for granting a complete exemption. The Applicant is not seeking to be excused from its obligation to file annual financial statements with the Commission..

Apart from the fact that the tests to be applied in the present case, adequate justification as compared to undue detriment, are different even if Mr. Justice Kelly's general statement were capable of the application sought for it in the present case the amendments which were made to section 1(9) of the B.C.A. in 1971, S.O. 1971, c. 26, s. 2, must be considered. As we have noted, the disclosure requirements in the BCA flow from the fact the company is a public offering company by definition found in section 1(9). That section, as it existed in 1970, provided that a corporation with fewer than fifteen shareholders could apply to the Commission for an order deeming it to have ceased offering its securities to the public. The 1971 amendment expanded the category of Ontario companies who were required to provide information to their shareholders and through filing with the Commission under the Act to all investors on a continuing basis. In addition, the Ontario Legislature made it quite clear that it intended that this information should be available to holders of debt securities as well as equity securities by changing the exempting powers in section 1(9) to provide that the application might be made by a corporation with fewer than fifteen security holders.

The effect of granting a complete exemption in the present case would be substantially the same as granting the kind of exemption provided for through section 1(9). We do not have this power. Through our decision, we have recognized that there is adequate justification for the exemptions granted but can find no justification for denying the holders of debt securities access to information to which they would otherwise be entitled. While we appreciate that there are protections afforded to the debt holders through the trust indentures we find no ground for not continuing the requirements to provide information to those debt holders through the filings with the Commission.

In conclusion, turning to the applications made on behalf of the present and future directors and senior officers of the Bank and Cadillac and the affiliates of Cadillac who are not directors and senior officers of the Applicant, we found it difficult to conclude, in light of the fact that the Bank and Cadillac are the owners of the Applicant and the Bank has a special interest through its guarantee of the three series of bonds, that there would not be a free interchange of information among the three companies. Indeed in support of the application for the exemption made under section 185(2), the Applicant states that the Bank and Cadillac have equal representation on the Board of the Applicant and are in all respects fully conversant with the business and affairs of the Applicant. There can be insider trading in debt securities. We believe that if there is it should be reported.

DATED at Toronto this 10th day of April, A.D. 1975.

REPORT OF THE INTERMINISTERIAL COMMITTEE ON COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING

STATEMENT

BY

HONOURABLE SIDNEY B. HANDLEMAN

MINISTER OF CONSUMER AND COMMERCIAL RELATIONS

TO

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

25TH APRIL, 1975.

I would like to place before the Legislature to-day, the Report of the Interministerial Committee on Commodity Futures Trading. This study was proposed by my predecessor, The Honourable John T. Clement, Q.C., acting upon the recommendations of the Ontario Securities Commission.

The purpose of the study was to examine the commodity futures market with a view to:

- (1) establishing the appropriate regulatory mechanisms to control and regulate trading in commodity futures in the Province of Ontario in order to protect the customers of commodity futures brokers; and
- (2) to determine the desirability of encouraging the establishment of an exchange for the trading in commodity futures contracts in Ontario.

With the increasing interest among investors in trading in commodity futures contracts, my Ministry was aware of the lack of regulation in Ontario and of the frauds which had been perpetrated in the United States, particularly in California, through commodity options trading.

Because of the implications of the trading and its potential effect on the price of commodities in the agricultural, mineral and forest-product fields, economic planning, the application of criminal law, as well as investor protection, representatives were nominated from five Ontario Government Ministries. These were: Ministry of the Attorney General, Agriculture and Food, Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs, Natural Resources and Consumer and Commercial Relations.

The Committee, which represented a range of disciplines, was chaired by Harry S. Bray, Q.C., Vice-Chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission and included:

Dr. Thomas P. Mohide, Director of the Mineral Resources Branch and former President of The Winnipeg Commodity Exchange;

Martin J. Jaeger, Senior Economist with the Ministry of Agriculture;

David E. Redgrave, Executive Director of the Office of Economic Policy, Ministry of Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs (TEIA);

Edward F. Then, Counsel from the Criminal Appeals and Special Prosecutions Branch of the Attorney General; and Mrs. Dagmar A. Stafl, Senior Economist and Barry Tocher, Senior Program Analyst, from my Ministry.

The Committee, assisted by Keith E. Boast, as Study Director, and Robert W. Rickover, an Economist with TEIA, examined the problems flowing from commodity trading and the regulatory solutions devised in Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom and elsewhere.

They examined the kinds of commodity contracts offered for sale in Ontario, the qualifications of the persons presently trading as brokers and as advisors and have recommended legislation directed to a registration system concerned not only with the honesty, reputation and competence of the persons who would be permitted to act as commodity futures brokers, but also the kinds of contracts which would be permitted to be traded in Ontario under the proposed Act.

The Report does not find a present need for a commodity futures exchange in Ontario; however, it recommends that the proposed legislation include the regulatory framework within which such an exchange could be established.

The Report will be placed before the Justice Policy Field Committee for consideration. Copies have been furnished to all Members of this House.

Those who presented briefs to the Committee and other interested parties will be supplied with copies. To assist in reviewing the Report and its recommendations, submissions will be welcome.

While the Report is not a text book on commodity futures trading, I believe it provides a helpful review of the subject from a regulatory point of view.

NATIONAL POLICY NO. 15

CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO ACCEPTANCE OF SCHOLARSHIP OR EDUCATIONAL PLAN PROSPECTUSES

The Administrators considered the request made on behalf of the distributor of the Canadian Scholarship Trust Plans for an increase in the entrance fees or commissions as set out in paragraph 7 of the policy from $175.00 to $200.00 and concluded that the request was not unreasonable. The difference in withdrawal rights between mutual funds contractual sales plans which give the purchaser 60 days to withdraw without penalty and paragraph 9 of National Policy No. 15 which provides for a 30 day withdrawal period were noted.

The Administrators concluded that paragraph 7 of the present policy should be amended to provide that the entrance fee should not exceed $200.00 per plan and that paragraph 9 should be amended to extend the previous right of withdrawal from 30 to 60 days.

So far as any particular plan is concerned the extra commission cannot be charged until an amendment to the current prospectus has been filed with the appropriate provincial administrator and, as necessary, accepted for filing by him disclosing on the one hand that an increased entrance fee will be charged on future sales and on the other hand extending the right of withdrawal to 60 days.

These amended rights and obligations will not apply to contracts presently in force.

In light of the above, following are the amended pages of this policy.

and the interest paid on the subscriber's capital shall be transferred to a trust fund held by a duly registered trust company which in turn will be administered for the benefit of the beneficiaries of the plans.

- (5) The depository must maintain an accounting system which will permit it to determine the amount of interest produced by the deposit of each subscriber.
- (6) The trust funds shall be administered pursuant to a trust indenture or deed in accordance with the terms detailed in the prospectus, and must contain a provision under which a licensed trust company agrees to act in the place of the foundation in the event that the foundation refuses to or is unable to act.
- (7) The entrance fees charged, including the commissions of the distributor and its salesmen, must not exceed $200.00 per plan. The first $100.00 paid under the plan may be applied against this fee and the balance may be deducted at a maximum rate of 50% of each of the further contributions.
- (8) From these fees sufficient funds must be set aside in trust to pay the future costs of administering the trusts established under (6). These funds shall not be used directly or indirectly for any other purpose. The costs of distribution must be borne fully by the distribution company. Any additional sums rebated or otherwise paid by the depository to assist in the payment of the charges for administration of the funds shall be held in trust by the foundation solely for this purpose and shall not be paid directly or indirectly for any other purpose.

- (9) The plan must grant the subscriber the right to withdraw from the plan without any cost to the subscriber within 60 days from the execution of the contract.
- (10) Where the subscriber wishes to withdraw from a plan after 60 days and before 180 days from the date of the execution of the contract.
 - (a) The subscriber shall not be obliged to pay any additional fees to those already paid;
 - (b) If the subscriber has made a lump sum payment, he shall forfeit a maximum of $80.00 of the fee paid and the balance of the fee paid shall be returned by the distribution company and the capital by the depository; and
 - (c) Where the plan is payable over a period of time and the fees paid exceed $80.00, the subscriber shall be entitled to the return of only 50% of the fees already paid in excess of the $80.00. The $80.00 will also be forfeit. The distribution company shall be responsible for the return of the excess fees paid.

- (11) After a period of 180 days the subscriber who cancels his contract may lose the total amount of the fees paid to that point.
- (12) It is considered contrary to the public interest to accept for filing a scholarship plan which calls for the complete forfeiture of the capital and accumulated interest in cases where the plan is abandoned before its maturity. The same shall apply to so-called 'special' plans

NOTE: 30 days remains in effect for all existing contracts in force re (9), (10).
